

Gen. Willoughby Nurses Grudge Against Press

Columnist Answers Bias Charges

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP)—Some army officers retire gracefully. Others retire like Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, former chief of intelligence for Gen. Douglas MacArthur. They carry their mental wounds back into civil life.

General Willoughby has a grudge. He is mad at a fair segment of the American press for the coverage of the Korean war.

Sheathing his sword and taking up his pen, he attacks six correspondents, including this writer, and three weekly news magazines in an article in the December issue of "Cosmopolitan."

His general charges against the newsmen are that we spread defeatism, "confused an unhappy public," and had "a marked tendency to smear General MacArthur." He even goes so far as to assert:

"The nuance of defeat created an atmosphere of tension, uneasiness, and distrust between Tokyo and Washington. This is believed to have been the major cause of the MacArthur-Truman split."

Who Believes It?
I do not know who believes this, unless it is General Willoughby himself. And I don't even really believe he does, except on rainy days.

The General accuses the six war reporters of being "often inaccurate, biased, prejudiced, petulant. . . . Their reporting furnished aid and comfort to the enemy."

Perhaps Willoughby, now being free of military duties, ought to get a job as a cub reporter on a newspaper and find out what the function of a free press is in a democracy. It is this: To find out the truth—and then print it.

The duty of a war reporter on the battlefield isn't to gloss over disaster or hide the mistakes of the top brass. It isn't his duty to burn incense before the altar of a two-star, self-inflating ego.

Lansing Office Bids $2,758,589

LANSING — (AP)—Low bids for rebuilding the state office building, severely damaged by fire last February, totaled $2,758,589, State Building Director A. N. Langius said today.

Contrary to expectations, the bids fall within the $2,921,000 appropriated by the legislature for the purpose, Langius said, however, that out of the balance must still come a $150,000 architect's fee and some other charges.

Langius said he would recommend acceptance of the low bids to the state administrative board at its Tuesday meeting. Following awarding of contracts, Langius said, it is estimated the rehabilitation job will take at least 18 months.

The building will be completely rebuilt within the present framework. The upper two stories, which were most seriously damaged, have already been removed. The low bid for the general construction contract was submitted by Francis J. Corr of Lansing at $1,207,500; mechanical work, Distel Heating Co., Lansing, $780,000; electric work, Lansing Electric Motors, Lansing, $675,054; elevators, Houghton Elevators, Detroit, $75,021; and cafeteria installations, Ruslander and sons, Buffalo, $21,014.

Allies Asked To Send Troops, Relieve Weary U. S. Forces In Korea

PARIS — (AP)—The United States was reported today to be urging other United Nations members to send more troops to Korea so more war-weary G.I.'s can be sent home. The appeal was said to be directed particularly to countries which have not sent soldiers, planes or ships to the war front.

Informed U. N. sources said details of the reported request are being handled in Washington but there is no mistake that the United States feels there should be more troops from other U. N. countries in Korea.

Occupation Army Anticipated
Expectations here are that some sort of truce will be reached in Korea and that the troops will become a holding force instead of a battle force. In that case, the U. S. wants the equivalent of occupation forces from countries which have argued they lacked troops or their soldiers lacked training.

There are fighting units from 17 countries in Korea. The United States would like to increase this number if possible.

There is a feeling that some countries in Latin America—Brazil is mentioned—might offer a regiment or more to increase national representation.

U. N. figures meanwhile are discussing privately what is to be done if a truce is reached and talks on Korea's political future start in the general assembly.

Vishinsky Evasive
Sir Benegal Rau of India has suggested creation of a study group to start work at once on planning Korea's political future and what is to be done after an armistice.

Meantime the western Big Three today formally accepted the Asian-Arab plan for private disarmament talks, but Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky dodged direct appeals to give the Russian answer.

With western acceptance, the decision on the closed-door discussions lay squarely up to Russia.

Observers at the United Nations general assembly felt Vishinsky's refusal to give a straight answer meant the Kremlin has not made up its mind whether it wants to get down to brass tacks about ridding the world of growing arms programs.

As a presidential appointee, Smyth could be ousted only by the president.

Within half an hour after the Key West action, James B. Dunlap, commissioner of revenue, announced here the ousting of 30 others as part of his drive to eliminate "unfit" employees.

It was the biggest single shake-up since an investigation by a House ways and means subcommittee turned up repeated indications of corruption or inefficiency in many spots in the federal tax collection service.

Since the inquiry started, three collectors, in charge of regional offices, have been fired, three others resigned while under investigation; 38 lesser employees were fired, and five resigned.

Dunlap did not announce the specific charges against the 30 employees he dismissed today but he said complete files on all of the cases were being made available to the House subcommittee headed by Rep. King (D-Calif.).

Dunlap said "disciplinary actions" less severe than the 30 cases also have been taken against a number of other employees but he did not elaborate.

Floods Drown Nine
TANDIL, Argentina — (AP)—At least nine persons were drowned and 12 injured by flash floods from a heavy downpour last night at this popular resort town, 210 miles south of Buenos Aires.

Robert R. Young, already a legend in railroad and currently representing a majority of Missouri Pacific's common stock, stood by as Neff was publicly given the pink slip.

But in St. Louis, Guy R. Thompson, acting as trustee for the Missouri Pacific properties—valued in testimony at the hearing at nearly a billion dollars—under authority of the U. S. bankruptcy court there, said Neff will keep on running MoPac as his chief executive officer.

Davis acknowledged that the developments simply made a wide open split out of long-standing differences among board members, the trustee and the latter's operating personnel.

At the core of the matter is a bitter behind-the-scenes struggle between major financial interests for control of the Missouri Pacific system, operating in 11 midwestern and southwestern states.

Great Lakes Barge Breaks Up In Storm
STE. ANNE DES MONTS, Que. — (AP)—The 23-man crew of the Great Lakes barge John H. Price escaped to shore last night as tremendous waves rolling across the Gulf of St. Lawrence pounded the grounded vessel to pieces.

Four sailors were taken to hospital for treatment.

Crew members were moved ashore one by one in a hastily-fashioned bos'n's chair.

Ex-Warden Sentenced
DETROIT — (AP)—Harry Jackson, former warden of Southern Michigan prison, began serving a 20-day sentence Tuesday for drunk driving. He was convicted in traffic court here last Jan. 20 and failed in his efforts to obtain a new trial. Circuit Judge Eugene Huff said Jackson could serve the sentence in daily visits to the court.

Fighting On Korea Front Comes To Complete Halt

Writers Aided Reds In Korea, General Says

Newsman Blamed For MacArthur Split

NEW YORK — (AP)—General MacArthur's former chief of intelligence has accused six newsmen of "inaccurate, biased and prejudiced" reporting of the Korean war, and charged their writings gave aid and comfort to the Communists.

The officer is retired Major General Charles A. Willoughby.

In an article in the December issue of "Cosmopolitan" magazine, which carried a foreword of endorsement by Gen. MacArthur, Willoughby named the six individual newsmen and also criticized three news-magazines.

He said they "appeared to go out of their way to create defeatist thought patterns, and to belittle the country's armed forces."

Tension Created
Newspaper coverage of the war, Willoughby said, may have been the major factor in President Truman's decision to fire Gen. MacArthur.

"I am convinced the nuance of defeat created an atmosphere of tension, uneasiness and distrust between Tokyo and Washington."

Collision In Air Kills Minister
OCALA, Fla. — (AP)—A Methodist minister crashed to his death yesterday when the small plane he was piloting and an Eastern Airliner collided near the Ocala Airport.

The minister, 33-year-old John Henry Macy of Anthony, Fla., was the sole occupant of the Civil Air Patrol cub plane.

No one among the crew or the 17 passengers aboard the twin-engine airliner was hurt.

The pilot of the airliner, J. E. Bishop of Atlanta, said he did not see the smaller craft until a few seconds before the impact.

"It felt like hitting a small bird," Bishop said.

Macy, an Air Force veteran of World War II, was on a pilot's proficiency flight when his L-4 cub was clipped by the propeller of the passenger ship at an altitude of about 800 feet.

Civilian and Federal agencies joined in an investigation to determine if anyone was at fault. The Ocala field does not have a control tower. The co-pilot of the DC-3 was R. E. Meder of Atlanta.

The airliner suffered only slight damage to one of its propellers.

Son, 18, Hunted In Axe Slaying
DETROIT — (AP)—"Son: wherever you are, if you read this either come back and let's talk this over with police or walk into the nearest police station and surrender."

"You can't keep running away forever and remember, I am with you 100 per cent. Sister and I will help you all we can."

"Please, son, come home."

That was the appeal today of a grief-stricken father, Lawrence Maurer, 46, to his son Kenneth, 18, wanted for questioning in the brutal axe and knife slaying of his mother and sister.

The bodies of Mrs. Daisy Maurer, 43, and Janet Maurer, 11, were found late Monday in their blood-splattered home. The son has not been seen since.

Search for the youth centered in the south and the west. Detectives said Kenneth, an assistant scoutmaster and enthusiastic gardener, might go there for outdoor work.

A truck driver, Auburn Whitlow, 27, of Melvindale, yesterday reported that he had given a ride early Tuesday toward Ann Arbor to a "young fellow" who appeared to answer the description of young Maurer.

Manitowoc Shipyards Launch 666-Foot Ship And City Has Holiday

MANITOWOC, Wis. — (AP)—A holiday spirit prevailed in this shipbuilding port for the launching today of the largest self-unloading limestone carrier on the Great Lakes.

Schools were closed so that children might watch the 666-foot John G. Munson, largest vessel ever built in the 80-year-old yards, slide sideways into Lake Michigan.

The coal burning steamer was built by the Manitowoc Shipbuilding Company for the Bradley Transportation Company of Detroit, a United States Steel Corporation subsidiary. She will remain in Manitowoc during the winter, make a test run in April, and join the Bradley fleet for the 1952 navigation season.

Wife Is Sponsor
The honor of sponsoring the craft at christening ceremonies went to Mrs. John G. Munson, wife of the man for whom the vessel is named. Munson, of Pittsburgh, retired in January as vice president of raw materials for U. S. Steel. For more than 30 years he had been associated intimately with Great Lakes shipping.

Others in the launching party included Charles C. West, president of the Shipbuilding company, and Mrs. West; Irvin L. Clymer, Bradley president, and Mrs. Clymer; John Munson, jr., of Bronsville, Tex.; Mrs. Munson's daughter, Mrs. Albert Holmes of Dover, Del.; M. W. Reed, executive vice president, U. S. Steel company, Pittsburgh; John E. Thiell, vice president and treasurer, Manitowoc Shipbuilding company, and Arthur C. Wilby, U. S. Steel vice president, Chicago.

The giant self-unloader, with a 72-foot beam, will be used to carry limestone from Calcite, Mich., on Lake Huron to ports on the lower Great Lakes for use largely by steel mills and chemical plants.

Needs No Dock Crew
She will carry 20,000 gross tons of stone at 16 miles an hour, powered by a 7,000-horsepower turbine gear drive engine. As a self-unloader she carries a continuous belt conveyor system and, unlike other carriers, will not have to make her traveling schedule conform with dock crew work schedules. The Munson can unload her cargo nights, days, Sun-

Sen. Taft Wants Wisconsin Vote

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON — (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today he probably will take no active part in the battle for Wisconsin's delegation to the 1952 Republican presidential nominating convention.

Unless he changes his mind, McCarthy told a reporter, he does not even plan to ask to be one of the delegates to the convention.

"I expect I'll have my hands full running for re-election to the Senate and I don't intend to take any part in the presidential nominating race," he said.

The Wisconsin senator declined comment on a statement by Rep. George H. Bender (R-Ohio) that while Senator Taft (R-Ohio) does not share McCarthy's views and believes the Wisconsin senator is "too vocal" Taft is "not going to kick him in the teeth."

Taft, an avowed candidate for the Republican nomination, is counting heavily on a victory in the April 1 Wisconsin primary to keep his campaign for delegates rolling at full speed.

Bender said if McCarthy is a delegate, "Taft wants McCarthy's vote."

Previously Taft's associates had said Wisconsin would be the only primary in which his name would be entered outside of Ohio, but recently they have been studying the possibility of trying the waters in New Hampshire. The March 11 New Hampshire contest is the first of the presidential year.

Ground Forces Keeping Watch On Communists

Enemy Barks Over Armistice Terms

SEOUL, Korea — (AP)—Field dispatches based on allied officers reports said ground fighting in Korea came to a complete stop today, with only the official announcement lacking to proclaim a ceasefire.

Troops of the United Nations, last night and early today, received orders not to fire at the enemy unless he attacked, field dispatches said.

By mid-afternoon, apparently well aware of the gentlemen's agreement Chinese soldiers played volley ball in full view of non-shooting American troops.

Blackout Abandoned
When darkness fell, the Reds abandoned their 18-month blackout and bonfires marked out the silent 145-mile front.

(AP) Correspondent Milo Farneti reported from the western front that he had seen an order, from U. S. Eighth Army headquarters to stop fighting.

Eighth Army headquarters denied that it issued the order. Farneti said the allies stopped fighting immediately after the order was received.

Only a few rounds of Red artillery, possibly from uniformed gunners, broke the stillness.

Patrols roamed the quiet front under orders to take no offensive action. And in many cases they made no contact.

Deadline Dec. 27
The Eighth army issued a warning statement that said "there is

Naval Plane Plunge Carries 11 To Death At San Diego, Calif.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — (AP)—A routine training flight from the Navy PBM (Martin Mariner) seaplane plunged into the ocean seven miles west of here yesterday, carrying 11 airmen to their death. It was San Diego's worst military plane disaster in a decade.

In another Southern California plane crash, a B-29 bomber burst into flames near March Air Base, but its 13-man crew parachuted to safety.

An eyewitness to the PBM crash said the plane, a two-engine craft, plunged straight down, hitting the water with a terrific splash.

"It was diving so fast, I thought it was a jet plane," said Donald Hibbard, truck driver. He said he was on a hill along the coast looking out to sea at the time.

The Navy said the plane, attached to fleet air wing 14, on a routine training flight from the San Diego Naval air station, broke into pieces when it struck. It did not burn, but soon sank. Cause

Frozen Iron Ore Brings Handling Loss To C&NW

Extraordinary expenses incurred in handling frozen iron ore represent losses to the Chicago & North Western and other railroads of the mining region, whose ore dock charges are based on ordinary—not extraordinary—handling conditions.

At the C&NW docks in Escanaba and other iron ports of the Upper Lakes the weather and the expenses have been "extraordinary" since the first of November.

L. A. McMillan, C&NW dock agent, today pointed out that ore thawing began here on Nov. 1 and has not stopped one day since that date.

Lose On Every Ton

Conditions were unchanged today at the Escanaba docks despite some rise in temperature. The railroad's steaming plant was going full blast and locomotives were watering ore in cars on the docks.

"The railroad is losing money on every ton we handle, because of the extraordinary expenses for steaming, watering, and the extra manpower," McMillan explained.

The dock charge of the C&NW and other railroads with docks at Marquette, Ashland and Duluth-

Superior, is 13 cents per gross ton. At Escanaba today 10 large locomotives are steaming in the yards near Danforth, 10 more are watering ore on the docks, and 50 additional docks workers are on because of the frozen ore.

May End Season Dec. 8

Ore is coming here on a limited basis from mines at Iron River and Ishpeming, and loading at the mines will continue as long as weather conditions permit.

There are eight boats here waiting for cargoes and more are scheduled. The docks here will be in business until Dec. 8, McMillan expects.

Seven hundred carloads of ore will have to be received to supply cargoes for the eight boats, indicating the giant size of the Great Lakes ore carriers.

Last year the season ended Dec. 11.

Ore Badly Needed

Despite end-of-the-season losses in handling frozen ore, the railroads meet the challenge by hauling and loading out as much ore as possible to meet the steel industry's need for stockpiles to carry through the winter months.

On its haul from mines to Escanaba, the C&NW receives a per gross ton rate of $1.54 from the Goebic range; and 89 cents per gross ton on the haul from the Marquette and Menominee ranges.

Normally profitable, these hauling rates do not compensate the railroads for extraordinary cost in handling frozen ore at the docks. As common carriers dedicated to public service, however, the railroads continue to the season's end and absorb the losses caused by the "extraordinary" weather.

Edick, a senior in the college of engineering, is a member of Vulcans, senior honorary for engineering students. Moran is a member of Michiganua, all-campus senior honorary, and is a senior in the college of literature, science and the arts.

Herring Run At Peak In Delta

Total Catch May Hit 2,000,000 Pounds

Already above last year's production, the 1951 herring run is bringing thousands of pounds of fish to market daily with a 2,000,000-pound total catch predicted from Delta county this season.

Topping the list of commercial fish produced here this season, herring is balancing out the season for fishermen who found yields down on whitefish, walleyes and other species.

Roy Jensen of the Jensen & Jensen market in Escanaba reported that 50,000 pounds of herring were received here yesterday, bringing the total for the Jensen & Jensen market to 800,000 pounds so far this season.

Supply Mink Ranchers

The run is now at its peak. Herring are being taken by fishermen in all Delta county ports from Ford River to Fairport, and hundreds of tons of fish are being picked up in Delta county by independent buyers.

Delta county's mink ranchers, annually faced with the problem of obtaining herring for feed, are expected to fill their needs this year largely from local sources. In addition dealers ship tons of fresh and frozen fish to fill orders in Wisconsin and elsewhere.

Although herring are plentiful the market continues firm, with fishermen during the season receiving not less than 4 cents per pound in the round and up to 6 cents for dressed fish. As the market demand is eased the price is expected to decline as it has in past years.

Fresh, Pickled, Smoked

Augmenting the Escanaba fishing fleet during the herring run are four Washington Island boats, including the Nelson Brothers, McDonald, Goodman & Son, and Goodmader & Johnson.

Bulk of the herring production goes for mink food, but thousands of pounds also go to the market for human consumption. Some are specially packaged for retail, others are processed and go to market in jars as pickled herring, and others are smoked.

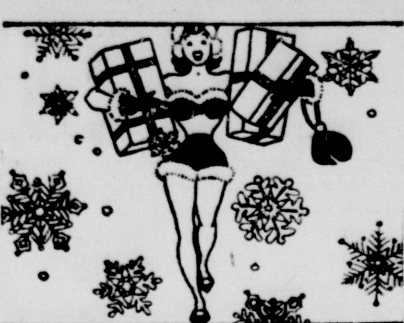

The commercial fishing industry is busier now than at any time this season, with the abundance of herring compensating in part for the poor production of other species.

C&NW Employees Plan New Safety Program

Peninsula division employees of the Chicago and North Western railway are sponsoring a "Family Night" safety program to be held at the K. of C. club in Escanaba at 7:30 Monday evening, Dec. 3.

A movie on safety, refreshments and other entertainment will be shown and many valuable prizes will be given away. There will be no admission charge.

The employees committee arranging the program is composed of Leo Lavolette, chairman, George Powell, William Hermes, P. J. McDonough and A. J. D'Amour.

In a bulletin issued to the employees, the "Family Night" committee stated in part:

"Your presence at this 'Family Night' will be evidence that you are interested in safety at home and at your work. This venture on the part of the employees of this division is a pioneer movement and if we have a successful meeting, no doubt it will be duplicated on other divisions." The railway management has given its wholehearted endorsement to the employees' safety project.

"The point which appeals to our management is the fact that the local committee of C&NW employees have entirely on their own volition decided to approach accident prevention from a different angle than has been done here before on this division," said Leonard Reynolds, superintendent of the Peninsula division.

In the past, safety programs have been initiated by railroad management, it was pointed out by the committee. The "Family Night" program is one that was conceived by the employees themselves. The idea was suggested at the annual dinner meeting of the Chicago and North Western Railway Veterans' association held recently in Escanaba.

School Group Holds Meeting

Curriculum and Bus Routes Discussed

Transportation and curriculum problems were discussed at a meeting of the Delta County Area Study committee at the Webster Annex building here last night. About thirty persons interested in educational affairs were in attendance.

The transportation sub-committee decided to chart all the school bus routes on a large Delta county map in the near future. Preliminary maps of bus routes already have been prepared by the various school superintendents.

The curriculum sub-committee, at its conference, decided to prepare a list of questions for the examination of curricula throughout the county. Another meeting will be held by this group at the Escanaba junior high school on Dec. 13 to study the suggested questions and reduce them to the desired number.

Primary objective of this group is to ascertain what educational facilities are already available in the county, whether the facilities are used to the maximum, and how they can be used to better advantage.

Deer and Bear Kill Is Lagging

Count At Straits Smaller This Year

The number of deer and bear transported across the Straits of Mackinac from the Upper Peninsula is somewhat smaller than last season's figure, the conservation department reports.

The figures for animals taken across the Straits from the opening of the deer season to Nov. 28 are as follows:

Animal	1951	1950
Deer	9,469	10,217
Bear	182	244
Coyote	37	38
Bobcat	21	23
Fox	10	16
Wolf	4	9

Conservation officers report that ideal deer hunting conditions now prevail in the woods. Most Lower Michigan hunters have returned home, but local nimrods have been going out this week and filling their licenses.

Two Hungarian DPs To Leave

Tookoos and Varga Going To Detroit

Rev. Charles Tookoos, 61, and nephew, Tim Varga, 21, who came to Escanaba a year ago as displaced persons from Hungary, will leave Friday for Detroit to make their home.

Reverend Tookoos will assume the pastorate of a Hungarian Reformed church in Detroit. His nephew, who has been employed at the Harnischfeger plant here, will take a job in a Detroit industry.

The two Hungarian DPs came to Escanaba under the sponsorship of the Lake Superior Presbytery. They escaped from Hungary in 1945 before the arrival of the Communists, wandered around Europe and finally landed in a concentration camp in Germany. Before coming to America, they were located at a displaced persons camp in the French zone of Germany.

Skate Exchange Will Be Opened Again This Year

Arthur Peterson, Escanaba recreation director, has announced that, because of many requests, the skate exchange will be opened again this year at Club 314.

The purpose of the exchange is to make possible the exchange of out-grown skates for skates of equal value and of a larger size.

Interested persons may contact Mrs. Bertha LaChapelle or Francis Lueneburg at Club 314 beginning this Friday. Skates should be securely tagged with the owner's name, address, and phone number, so that there will be no loss or mix-up. If the skates are to be sold, the price should also be marked on the tag.

The skate exchange will be continued through December and January.

Fractions appear to have originated in India, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

European Defense Plan Offers Tremendous Job

By PETER EDSON
(NEA Washington Correspondent)
PARIS—(NEA)—A month's tour of Western European countries, arranged by U. S. Departments of State and Defense, reveals two inescapable conclusions:

1. The defenses and the economies of America's European Allies are pitifully weak.

2. The determination of General Eisenhower's headquarters to overcome these obstacles is the greatest force in Europe today.

The American people have not been told frankly what difficulties are ahead in helping to rearm Western Europe and to further its postwar economic recovery at the same time. Or if they have been told, there is little comprehension of the magnitude of the task ahead.

In congressional hearings on appropriations for this year's mutual assistance program, Representative Wigglesworth did ask if there were any estimates on what the total bill would be for foreign military and economic aid.

Richard M. Bissell, acting administrator of what's left of the Marshall Plan, mentioned a figure of $20 to $25 billion. This was admittedly an off-the-cuff estimate, unsupported by any detailed official breakdown. But it is the only figure which Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, Eisenhower's chief of staff, could present when he was asked what European rearmament would cost. This is of course exclusive of what is spent on U. S. Army, Navy and Air Force.

It is not the job of General Eisenhower's headquarters to figure what the cost of European rearmament will be to the American taxpayer. General Eisenhower's headquarters is a tactical command. It is not a procurement agency nor a supply organization.

Makes Recommendations
General Eisenhower may make reports or recommendations on what forces he will need to defend Western Europe and what arms they should have. It is then up to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries to supply them and figure out where the money is coming to pay for them.

The sad fact seems to be that there is as yet no firm bill of requirements on what arms will be needed to defend Western Europe.

Top U. S. officials in Europe revealed to this writer that they had not yet been able to add up what it would take to rearm Western Europe. There is a good estimate of what air power will be needed. But the planning on logistics—supply lines and depots for maintaining the European army—have not been completed.

These facts all support the contention of Europe's present weakness. Previous dispatches from Europe by this correspondent have reported on-the-spot information about these weaknesses as they were revealed. They may be summarized briefly, in repetition, as follows:

Britain is facing an acute financial crisis and may have to ask for additional billions in U. S. aid. The French franc is in an extremely weak position, due to inflationary pressures within that country.

Germany's industrial potential is just beginning to be put to use on parts production for European arms manufacture. But it will take two years from the time a decision is made to bring Germany into the NATO alliance before effective military strength can be mobilized.

Italy Is Question Mark
Italy's rearmament has been held back by peace treaty limitations. But with terrific inflation, over-population and serious unemployment, there is a real question of how much more of a burden Italy can bear, willing as her leaders may be.

Yugoslavia may have strong fighters and many of them. But Marshal Tito lacks all heavy arms and the Yugoslav economy is suffering from three years under Russian exploitation and domination, making it the most backward country of all Western Europe.

Turkey shows great promise, though only 28 years out of the Middle Ages. Her exposed position on Europe's right flank is an obvious risk because there are no support forces behind her in the Middle East.

And summarizing the summary, it is stated in London that the United States will have to supply from two-thirds to three-fourths of all the heavy arms needed if Europe is to be rearmed in time.

If this estimate is borne out, that's what will cost the money. The Marshall Plan was originally considered a $17 billion, four-year program. It was completed in three years at a cost of $15 billion.

In the face of all these obstacles, the courage, vision and leadership of General Eisenhower in tackling this job and in saying that it can be done appears in its proper perspective.

If the Eisenhower objective of a European army and a unified Europe can be realized, it will probably go down in history as the force that saved the world from the Communist menace.

KEYS TO THE CITY—Ever wonder where those giant keys that city mayors present to visiting dignitaries come from? Well, in Rock Island, Ill., Mayor Melvin L. ## Jim Paul Sold First Copper At Ontonagon ONTONAGON—The year 1951 is somewhat of a propitious time to announce the White Pine loan. It marks the 70th anniversary of the death of the man who marketed the first lot of copper from what now is to be one of the greatest copper camps in the world.

Jim Paul, the founder of Ontonagon, died in 1881. Prior to his death, but after he had satisfied his yearnings to discover more and bigger copper boulders, he settled in business tending to what was known as Jim Paul's "Deadfall." He is known to have laid out the townsite of Ontonagon and later do have erected the Paul hotel, which was on the corner of Chippewa and Michigan streets. At one time the hostelry was one of the important rendezvous in the country.

James Kirk Paul came to Ontonagon's area with a half breed guide named Nick Minicler in May, 1843. Discovering where a reported big copper rock was located, he soon had the boulder in tow and was transporting it down the river when he bumped into Major Walter Cunningham, a government engineer, accompanied by Julius Eldred. They attempted to take the rock away from Jim, but because of the latter's friendliness with the Indians they were afraid of an uprising. A compromise was effected with the result that Paul got two payments from Eldred, one for $1,800 and the other for $400. An act of Congress later on gave the latter $5,654.96 for the chunk. Its exact weight as computed at Washington, where it now rests in the Smithsonian institution is 3,708 pounds.

A Virginian by birth, Paul was a kind and generous soul. But, do him wrong and he could be the most ornery cuss this side of Platteville, Wis., the place from which he set foot on his journey to the Ontonagon country.

Propitious, too, is the year 1951 related to Eldred. Undergoing huge difficulties both to procure the boulder from Paul and to transfer it to Detroit, where it went on parade, Eldred derived but little benefit from his work. When the boulder saw repose in a decadent portion of the U. S. Museum, folks soon forgot about its once great importance. Once a serious minded business man, his activities on behalf of the boulder ruined him. He died just one century ago, in 1851.

Incidentally, too, it's 70 years since Alfred Meads, one time editor of present day Claude Reilly's Ontonagon Herald, made a special trip to Washington to locate the boulder. Because of his journey it was removed from its cobwebby recess and brought out into the open of the Smithsonian Institute. But, if Paul could only know what's going on in his beloved Ontonagon country today. That would be something!

Army Will Not Use State Fair Grounds For Ack Gun Crews

DETROIT—The army has given up plans to lease buildings at the state fair grounds here to house anti-aircraft gun crews.

The Michigan military district said "alternate sites" have been obtained, but did not name them.

State Fair Manager James D. Freils had opposed leasing fair grounds buildings to the army on a year-around basis, saying this would interfere with the annual 10-day state fair.

The army had intended to use the sheep and swine and poultry buildings for barracks and the race track clubhouse for a mess hall.

The military district said the alternate sites "more adequately" meet the army's needs. They will be used periodically for maneuvers in metropolitan and defense training.

During the second week of football practice, Georgia Tech had three of its first four tackles, its first three left halfbacks and two of its first three fullbacks sidelined by injuries.

LOST 30 POUNDS McCOYS AND RENNEL GET ALONG WELL

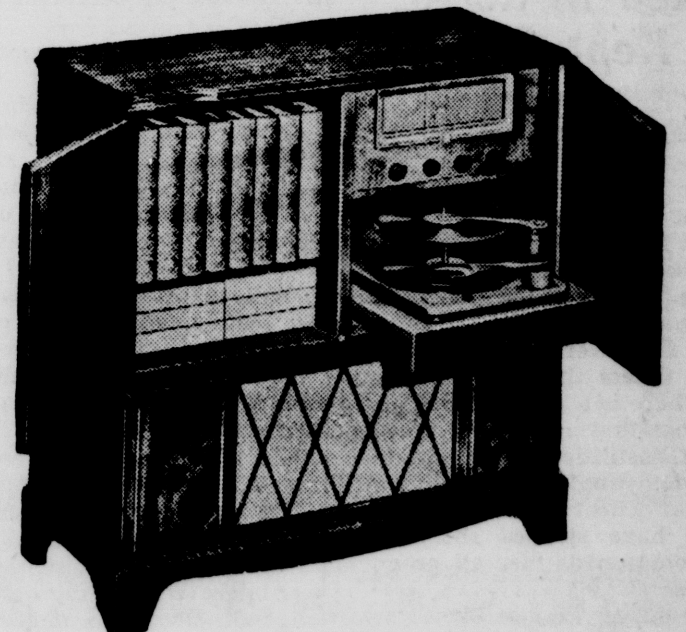

Just a friendly piece of advice from a user of Rennei who calls it a genuine product. If you are overweight you will be interested in the success experienced by Mrs. Theo McCoy, R. No. 1, Sheridan, Mich. who writes: "I really think Rennei Concentrate is the best reducing preparation made. Two and one-half months ago, before using Rennei, I weighed 196 pounds. Now I feel lots better and weigh 166 pounds. My friends and relatives compliment me all the time on how much better I look. I eat quite normally, just a little less on sweets, fats and starches. I have set my goal for 160 pounds and I know I can do it with Rennei Concentrate." It's amazing how quickly you can lose unsightly fat at home. Obtain liquid Rennei at your druggist, mix with grapefruit juice as directed and take two tablespoonsfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you do not lose weight with the very first bottle just return it for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennei.

Harnischfeger Lease Okehed

Wage Boost Given To City Employees

The Escanaba city council, meeting in special session this noon, approved a revised lease with the Harnischfeger Corporation for the use of the city-owned property housing Harnischfeger's welder plant on Stephenson avenue.

Under the terms of the lease, the company has an option to purchase the building, including the property now tenanted by the Northern Motor Rebuilders and the Delta Furniture company and a parcel of land adjacent to the buildings. The lease and option run to Dec. 31, 1955 with an automatic right of extension for five years to Dec. 31, 1960. The option price in the new contract has been fixed at $160,400 plus an additional $5,000 in the event the Northern Motor Rebuilders decide to construct an extension to their property, the depreciation factor in the $5,000 extension was fixed at 5% per year.

Yearly rental of the Harnischfeger property is $4,000 of which half may be applied to the purchase price if the option is exercised.

A wage increase of 4% across the board to all city employees, recommended by the civil service commission, was approved by the city council. The payment is retroactive to Sept. 24. City Manager Aronson estimated the increased cost to the balance of the fiscal year will be $16,000.

The council approved the purchase of a lot from George McEwen and authorized the city clerk to advertise for bids for a number of other city owned lots.

Gas Theft Brings Jail, Probation

Connie Aderman, 18, Bark River Rd., yesterday pleaded guilty in Justice Henry Ranguette's court to a charge of larceny of gasoline and was sentenced to jail and placed on probation for six months.

Sheriffs officers who arrested Aderman said he admitted siphoning gasoline from a Bark River Oil company truck on Thanksgiving Day. Tracks of his car were followed by officers Sunday night after Aderman attempted another gas theft and he was arrested Monday.

Three juveniles also are involved, officers reported. The investigation is continuing.

Ground Fighting Halted In Korea; Eye Kept On Reds

as of this date, 28 November, 1951, no cease-fire in Korea."

This statement was directly counter to the facts on the front — facts known to tens of thousands of soldiers and to scores of war correspondents at the front and at headquarters.

The facts were that for the time being, unless the Communists attack, there is a ground truce along the front that amounts to a cessation of hostilities on the ground.

Farnet quoted a U. S. Third division officer that Allied ground forces have stopped shooting at the Communists "for all practical purposes."

The officer said an Eighth army directive told all units on the front not to fire on Reds unless necessary.

"We are not shooting at them unless they shoot at us," the officer said. "It will be a period of watchful waiting while we see how serious the Communists are about our 30-day cease-fire proposal."

The provisional cease-fire line is to become the cease-fire line only if negotiators reach a complete armistice by Dec. 27.

FOE GETS BALKY

MUNSAN, Korea—(P)—Communist truce negotiators flatly refused today to ban military buildups in Korea during an armistice or to set up joint inspection teams to police the truce.

The Red stand led Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief negotiator for the United Nations command, to express suspicion the Reds might be planning to resume fighting after a temporary truce.

Joy told newsmen "the Communists came out in the open and said they were completely opposed to our principles" for inspection teams and guarantees against military buildups.

Fighting Dies Down
"They brought up the question of withdrawal of foreign troops," Joy reported. "They said that with withdrawal of foreign troops" the problem "would be settled."

"You see what we are up against?" the admiral asked. While truce negotiators bumped into this new stumbling block at Panmunjom, fighting faded away along the 145-mile provisional cease-fire line agreed upon Tuesday.

Chinese troops played volley ball within sight of doughboys on the central front. Allied patrols were reported called off in the west. Even the familiar thunder of artillery faded to a whisper.

Writers Accused Of Aiding Enemy

This is believed to have been the major cause of the MacArthur-Truman split."

Sharp denials immediately came from the newspapermen whom Willoughby identified by name. They are:

Joseph Alsop, syndicate columnist; Hanson Baldwin, military correspondent of the New York Times; Homer Bigart, war correspondent of the New York Herald-Tribune; Hal Boyle, war correspondent and columnist of the Associated Press; Drew Pearson, syndicate columnist; and Christopher Rand, former member of the Herald-Tribune's Korea staff, now resigned.

Public Confused

"During the most difficult days in Korea," Willoughby wrote, "these men were often inaccurate, biased, prejudiced and petulant; they confused an unhappy public. The corrosive effect of their irresponsible reporting was equal to that of calculated defeatism, even if such was not intended. Their reporting furnished aid and comfort to the enemy."

Willoughby also cited Time, Newsweek, and U. S. News and World Report for "inferential, if not calculated deception of the public."

He called the newspapermen—"These ragpickers of modern literature . . . Careless chroniclers . . . jittery experts . . . Journalistic soothsayers . . . The fickle press . . . the panting eagerness of a sidewalk huckster and the unctuous concern of an undertaker."

Willoughby's accusations centered, mainly, around two points:

1. That the correspondents had "belittled" the Eighth Army, and,
2. That they erroneously described last year's withdrawal under Chinese attack, as a "defeat," magnifying its proportions, criticizing army intelligence, and exaggerating the casualty figures.

On a CBS television program last night Willoughby declared he did not "ascribe a deliberate intent on the part of these reporters."

"They merely reported what they believed unquestionably was the impact of what they saw," Willoughby said on the television program "However, they have a responsibility to the public and to the reputation of the 8th Army."

In their replies, the correspondents denied having criticized the army, as such, or the individual soldiers. They said they had criticized MacArthur, for his overall decisions, and Willoughby for his intelligence reports, on which MacArthur apparently based his strategy in Korea.

Aimed At MacArthur
As an example of the "belittling" of the army, Willoughby quoted extensively from an article by Baldwin. It compared American generalship, troops and equipment with those of other countries, and said the Americans were not always the best in the world.

Willoughby described this as a "devastating, surprising and telling reportorial attack."

Baldwin said the article was written before the Korean fighting began. He said it was prepared early in the spring of 1950, but was not published until after the war started. He added:

"As an intelligence officer, Gen. Willoughby was widely and justly criticized by Pentagon officials as well as in the papers. His present article is as misleading and inaccurate as were some of his intelligence reports."

Bigart, cabling from Paris, said his criticisms have been directed against MacArthur and Willoughby, not the army as such. He replied:

"General MacArthur and his right little circle of advisers have never been able to stomach criticism, whether from a war correspondent or the President of the United States. In an attempt to silence criticism, they have adopted the line that anyone who questions their judgment is "inaccurate, biased, prejudiced and petulant," and that any criticism of them involves some sort of slur on the whole army."

Old Prussian Methods
Drew Pearson made the same distinction in a statement which read:

"Gen. Willoughby is still smarting from my account of how he immigrated to the U. S. after being forced to flee a Prussian military school and how he continued to practice Prussian swagger methods in the U. S. Army. He also ignores the fact that it was his faulty intelligence, not the Second Division's, which I criticized in the Yalu river advance. If Willoughby's intelligence had been more accurate, the division never would have got in the position where it was forced to retreat."

Boyle said American intelligence in Korea, for which Willoughby was responsible, was "tragically bad." He said:

"The General's job was to obtain information about the Chinese and to evaluate it. I thought then, and I still think that, that our intelligence was tragically bad. Gen. Willoughby, naturally, feels otherwise. In this case, the events give the answer—the troops ran into a complete surprise, and were decisively beaten back. Generalities about 'bias and prejudice' cannot outweigh the hard facts of defeat and the cold statistics of losses. It was not 'bias and prejudice' that rolled the army back across thousands of square miles of lost ground."

These events took place a year ago at this time. The sequence was this:

By early October, the North

Korean army had been smashed into splinter-groups which were retreating.

In late October, the first Chinese troops were encountered. They were in small numbers, and the Chinese Red government said they were "volunteers." They halted the U. N. forward movement.

Then there was a lull for three weeks, during which the main force of Chinese disappeared.

On Nov. 20, MacArthur launched the "Home-by-Christmas" offensive. It was immediately stopped. Three days later, the army was in full retreat, with some units totally cut off. It fell back to a line below Seoul before it could regroup.

War correspondents on the front, in analyzing the causes of the setback, mainly blamed American intelligence. They said Willoughby had reported only 60,000 to 80,000 Chinese troops in Korea, whereas, actually some 300,000 hit the U. N. army.

In a dispatch dated Nov. 30, which the magazine article quotes, Boyle asked:

"Why didn't the American high command know the enemy had massed such a force?"

Willoughby's article replies that his intelligence had furnished precise information on enemy strength. "The presence of 11 Chinese corps, or 33 divisions, along the Yalu was known and had been reported to Washington."

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz.—(P)—A sheriff's party has rescued 19 of approximately 30 elk hunters marooned for five days by heavy snows in rugged East-Central Arizona country. The rescue party reached two of seven hunters' camps last night. All 19 hunters were reported in good condition.

Atlantic Nations Aim At 100-Division Army For European Defense

By STAN SWINTON

ROME—(P)—The 12 Atlantic Allies today end five days of consultation charting the way they hope—to raise western defense forces in Europe to 100 divisions of combat and reserve troops by the end of 1954.

Gen. Willoughby Condemns Press

It is his duty to find out what is happening in the war—and let the people back home know what is happening. That is what the soldiers themselves want him to do. His only restriction is this—never to write anything that will threaten the actual combat security of the troops.

Hiding His Blunders

My own feeling is that General Willoughby has taken up a blunderbuss against the press to hide his own blunders.

It was—in the opinion of a number of trained war correspondents on the scene—the reporting of General Willoughby himself that gave "aid and comfort to the enemy" and let down General MacArthur.

As top intelligence officer it was his job to give MacArthur an estimate of the enemy's capability under any condition. In the case of the Chinese Reds the Tokyo headquarters intelligence staff dismally failed to do this.

The White House records of the Truman-MacArthur conference on Wake Island on Oct. 15, 1950, show that MacArthur was asked what the chances were of Chinese or Soviet interference in Korea.

And MacArthur was quoted in reply:

"Very little. . . . We are no longer fearful of their intervention. . . . We no longer stand hat in hand."

"The Chinese have 300,000 men in Manchuria. Of these probably not more than 100,000 to 125,000 are distributed along the Yalu river. Only 50,000 to 60,000 could be gotten across the Yalu river."

Costly Mistake
Presumably, Willoughby supplied this estimate to his chief. That was his job.

Forty days later the U. N. launched its "win-the-war" offensive. On that day—Nov. 24—Tokyo headquarters intelligence still put the total Chinese and North Korean enemy in Korea at only 100,000 men.

It was an extremely costly miscalculation. Tremendous numbers of waiting Chinese Reds rose up, split the Allied drive and forced a long withdrawal.

On Dec. 2—Eight days after the omy, are expected in January, when the North Atlantic treaty organization (NATO) council meets again.

President Truman and British Prime Minister Churchill will confer in Washington before then and may bulldoze a couple of stumbling blocks out of the road. They include a NATO North Atlantic naval commander and the standardizing of rifles and machine guns.

The council yesterday boosted to 100 divisions its program of 1954 strength. Earlier it had set a goal of 70 combat divisions at the end of the next three years.

The expanding defense plan calls for creation of a European army of men from France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—plus separate British and American troops.

A treaty agreeing to start recruiting by April for this unique army—560,000 men organized in 43 divisions—is expected at the January meeting.

attack began — MacArthur estimated the enemy at 600,000 men, including 500,000 Chinese and 100,000 North Koreans.

Where did this vast force mushroom from? Why did Allied intelligence have no inkling of it? It should have.

Who really let MacArthur down in the lost battle near the Yalu—a few newspapermen or his own chief of intelligence?

Even in this odd world I doubt if Willoughby will be able to prove a man can win.

self by daubing the press with a worn tar brush. Surely he must have known when 100,000 American soldiers marched toward anguish and ambush, hopeful that his wrong intelligence was right.

Was it only a year ago? Has the General forgotten already? The men who marched haven't.

Coaches Jump Track On New York Central But No One Is Hurt

ALBANY, N. Y.—(P)—Seven coaches of the southbound New York Central express, the Easterner, jumped the tracks near Castleton, nine miles south of Albany, early today.

First reports to the Albany dispatcher's office said no one was injured.

The cause was not determined immediately.

The railroad said the 11-car train included one sleeper. The train, No. 52, was en route to New York from Buffalo. It was due to leave Albany at 12:45 a. m., but the railroad said it was running late.

The wreck occurred at 1:30 a. m. The Central's four-track main line on the Hudson River's east shore was blocked. All traffic south of Albany was enroute over

Anniversary Recalls State Of Superior

MENOMINEE—Fifty years ago the late Roger M. Andrews, in partnership with the late William Webb Harmon, purchased the Menominee Herald. A few years later the Evening Leader was purchased and combined into the present Menominee Herald-Leader. In 1905, Mr. Andrews became sole owner through purchase of the Harmon interests and launched upon a memorable career of U. P. newspaper and magazine publication.

Of the many journalistic enterprises espoused by the late Roger M. Andrews during his career as publisher of the Menominee Herald-Leader, none achieved wider fame than his proposal that the 15 counties in the upper peninsula secede from Michigan and set up their own state of "Superior."

The idea was not of Andrews' origin. Talk of statehood started in the U. P. as far back as 1864 when north country residents rose in wrath over poor U. S. mail service. The issue was taken to Washington and the threat to secede made on the floor of congress. Postal authorities decided to avoid turmoil by establishing a new mail route for the U. P. area. After that, talk of secession subsided.

It took a man of Andrews' gift for the spectacular to revive the Superior statehood idea. He launched the campaign with trimmings in 1916. The occasion was the annual banquet of the Calumet Business Men's Association on Jan. 5 of that year. His attack was double-barreled.

First, he fired U. P. community pride through a needling of the leaders at the state capital in Lansing. He planted ideas that lower Michigan was getting a lot better highways than the U. P.; that few state institutions were north of the Straits, and that the two peninsulas had little in common.

Location

Taking Ishpeming as the approximate center of the U. P. Andrews showed that Madison, the capital of Wisconsin, and St. Paul, the capital of Minnesota, would be nearer to Ishpeming than Lansing, the Michigan capital. Furthermore, he said, as trade centers, Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth were all closer to Ishpeming than either Lansing or Detroit.

In its own right, Andrews contended, the U. P. warranted statehood because:

The U. P. is larger than Delaware, Connecticut and Massachusetts combined. It is 13 times as large as the state of Rhode Island.

At the time (1916), Calumet was larger than any city in Oregon save Portland; in South Carolina except Charleston; in Louisiana save New Orleans, in Maine save Portland; in Maryland except Baltimore and in New Hampshire save Manchester.

In 1916, Andrews continued, there were 75 banks in the proposed state of Superior. This was more banks and especially a heavier amount of deposits than in the states of Delaware, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana, Kansas, Montana, Maryland, Colorado, Washington or Oregon.

Large City

Too, there was not a city in Vermont, Wyoming, New Mexico, Nevada, Mississippi, Arizona, North Dakota or South Dakota as large as the mining community of Calumet.

After its birth in Calumet, the idea of a state of Superior caught fire and was the subject of newspaper editorials all over the nation.

The Ashland (Wis.) Press stated: "The interests of upper Wisconsin are the same as those of northern Michigan. Why not include the two areas in the new state of Superior? The movement sounds good to us. Let's start something."

The Boston Herald observed: "The idea makes good sense."

The Detroit Free Press hinted: "Perhaps the upper peninsula has not always been fairly treated."

Andrews never got his state of Superior but he did awaken the U. P. to its potentialities and may have brought about better understanding between upper and lower Michigan in matters of state wide importance. When the campaign was over—and lost, Andrews summed it up philosophically: "Maybe we'll never be the State of Superior, but we'll never again be the state of 'inferior.'"

Michigan Assigned 65 TV Channels; One For Escanaba

By MARION BURSON
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Michigan has been given 65 television channels for use when the present "freeze" on new station construction ends—probably early in 1952. The assignment of channels by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) is tentative, however. And it does not mean new TV stations will spring up overnight.

Materials Restricted
Discussing the allocation plan in a recent speech, Commissioner George E. Sterling said two factors will hold up rapid TV expansion. They are:
1. Restrictions on critical materials and a lack of transmitters and other equipment.
2. The FCC's inability—because of lack of personnel—to process speedily the hundreds of applications for new stations.
The FCC issued its freeze order in September, 1948. Since then not a single new TV station has been authorized. The commission quit issuing licenses after it became apparent that the present 107 stations were interfering with each other; signals. All are crowded into the 12-channel very high frequency (VHF) band.

Freeze Ends Soon
Sterling said the freeze will end in late February or early March, 1952, barring some "unforeseen legal booby-trap." At that time, the commission will issue a table of allocations, providing for more than 2,000 TV stations in the nation.

The order will provide for 550 stations in the VHF band (30 to 360 megacycles). Many present stations will get new channels. The aim is less interference through better spacing.
But the bulk of the new assignments will be made in the ultra high frequency (UHF) band, which has been used only experimentally up to now. Extending from 470 to 890 megacycles, it will provide 70 additional TV channels for the nation.
Of the 65 channels allotted to Michigan, 17 are VHF and 48 are UHF. Six of the VHF channels are reserved for non-commercial educational stations.

Licenses Applied For

Michigan now has six TV stations of which three are in Detroit. The others are in Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Lansing. Although the commission during the freeze has discouraged prospective TV station operators from applying for licenses, it has on file applications for 10 new stations in Michigan.

The Booth stations alone seeks permission to operate five stations. They would be located in Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Saginaw and Lansing. Booth wants VHF channels for all the stations except Grand Rapids, which would be UHF.

Other applicants are United Detroit Theatres Corp., Detroit, VHF; WJR, Detroit, VHF; Advertisers Press, Inc., Flint, VHF; Royal Oak, UHF, and the Saginaw Broadcasting Co., Saginaw, VHF.

The FCC's allocation plan calls for the three VHF stations in Detroit plus three UHF stations of which one would be non-commercial.

Sault Ste. Marie is given two VHF stations and one each is allotted Alpena, Cheboygan, Escanaba, Flint, Grand Rapids, Hancock, Iron Mountain, Iron River, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Marquette and Traverse City.

Channel For Gladstone
In addition, UHF channels for non-commercial use tentatively are assigned Ann Arbor, Grand Rapids, Sault Ste. Marie and Traverse City.

Commercial UHF channels are allotted to Alma, Alpena, Ann Arbor, Bad Axe, Battle Creek, two: Bay City, Benton Harbor, Big Rapids, Cadillac, Cheboygan, East Lansing, two: East Tawas, Flint, two: Gladstone, Grand Rapids, Houghton, Iron Mountain, Ironwood, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Ludington, Manistee, Marquette, Midland, Mount Pleasant, Muskegon, two: Petosky, Pontiac, Port Huron, Rogers City, Saginaw, two: Sault Ste. Marie, Traverse City and West Branch.

Sterling said the UHF band "offers the possibilities of an excellent, comparatively interference-free TV service."

SAFETY FOR THE "DEATH SEAT" — A new idea in auto safety is the "Safe-t-table," demonstrated above by Norm Nicholson in Detroit, Mich. When the car jerks to a sudden stop, the rubber-cushioned table springs out from the dashboard and prevents passenger from going through the windshield. Developed by a Detroit auto stylist, the table may also be used for writing, as map board or for lunch. But, its main purpose is to cut the toll taken by the right-front "death seat," where seven out of 10 persons killed in auto accidents were riding.

cellent, comparatively interference-free TV service.

It is particularly free of interference from ignition systems and other electrical interference sources as well as atmospherics.

On the other hand, he said that in hilly country the shadows in pictures transmitted by UHF stations will be deeper and occasionally marred by reflections from hills and buildings.

"Experience also shows," he went on, "that the leaves of deciduous trees extract some toll of energy from UHF signals and the quality of reception will be impaired during the spring and summer months in locations of low signal intensity unless one places his antenna above the surrounding trees."

Receivers Needed
Sterling said, too, that a UHF station will be at a serious competitive disadvantage in getting started unless some way can be found to get UHF receivers to the public quickly.

He suggested that "the sooner the networks get into UHF either by ownership or affiliation of stations the sooner the market will be developed for receivers and converters."

"Since the commission has adopted a philosophy of intermixture of VHF and UHF channels in a community then it would seem that intermixture in ownership of stations by networks would insure the future of the UHF band."

Sterling told of a "very healthy interest" by applicants for UHF channels with many "eager to get started in this new portion of the

On the other hand, he said that in hilly country the shadows in pictures transmitted by UHF stations will be deeper and occasionally marred by reflections from hills and buildings.

"Experience also shows," he went on, "that the leaves of deciduous trees extract some toll of energy from UHF signals and the quality of reception will be impaired during the spring and summer months in locations of low signal intensity unless one places his antenna above the surrounding trees."

Receivers Needed
Sterling said, too, that a UHF station will be at a serious competitive disadvantage in getting started unless some way can be found to get UHF receivers to the public quickly.

He suggested that "the sooner the networks get into UHF either by ownership or affiliation of stations the sooner the market will be developed for receivers and converters."

"Since the commission has adopted a philosophy of intermixture of VHF and UHF channels in a community then it would seem that intermixture in ownership of stations by networks would insure the future of the UHF band."

Sterling told of a "very healthy interest" by applicants for UHF channels with many "eager to get started in this new portion" of the

TROPHIES FROM ALASKA — Freeman Harrington of Flint and his wife returned from Alaska this month with many trophies of a successful hunting trip. At Palmer they bagged a white sheep which had horns with a 40 1/2 inch curl. A black bear also was bagged on this pack-horse trip. On a caterpillar tractor and sled caribou hunt they got one with a five-foot antler spread, and also panned some gold at an old placer mine. They hunted moose and brown bear on an airplane trip, and then went by dog team after mountain goats, obtaining two fine ones. The couple took about 1,800 feet of movies and will have about 400 slides in color. On the drying rack are (top, left to right) a 500-pound black bear, a 100-pound wolf, a mountain goat and a 700-pound black bear, and (bottom) a goat and a bear. Other trophies are a caribou rack in velvet, moose rack, sheep horns and a sheep cape. (Flint Journal Photo)

Radio Stations Can't Censor Candidates' Speeches, Says Ruling

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Broadcasting stations have no right to censor the content of political speeches, even if they use state and local libel laws as an excuse, the Federal Communications Commission said.

In a restatement of policy, somewhat stronger than one made three years ago, FCC said in its view no liability for libel rests against a station as a result of providing a microphone for a legally qualified candidate for public office to reach the voters.

The commission recalled what its chairman, Wayne Coy, told a House committee on the subject in 1948: "For the most part, political candidates are not super-sensitive; they know how to take it as well as dish it out; and I do not think we should do anything to curtail a political campaign."

Ohio Grandmother, 48, Goes To Prison For Embezzling $12,047

DAYTON, O.—(AP)—A 48-year-old grandmother was sentenced to nine years in a women's reformatory for embezzling $12,047 from the Wright Field Credit Union where she worked.

Mrs. Bernice S. Emerick, former secretary-treasurer of the union, pleaded guilty to 13 counts of a 15-count indictment. The FBI said an audit of the union's books showed a shortage of $224,059. They still are trying to trace the rest of the money.

Mrs. Emerick, who has been married to a Dayton barber for 11 years, separated from him last summer. She married Dell Lyman, 34, former UCLA football player and city councilman in Manhattan Beach, Calif., after a whirlwind courtship in Las Vegas. The FBI said Mrs. Emerick spent $1,600 in two days. Lyman later had the marriage annulled.

I CREDIT O-JIB-WA FOR RELIEVING MY ARTHRITIS

Rheumatism and Arthritis Sufferers! A talk with Mr. William Koepke, 6390 W. Lafayette St., Detroit, would soon convince you that O-JIB-WA BITTERS is the best medicine you could possibly take. Part of his enthusiasm and sincerity can be felt in reading his statement which follows.

"Everyone that knows me is surprised at how well I get around and how good I feel. It is hard to realize that after suffering for seven years, that such a change could take place in just three months. Before I took O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I was in such pain with rheumatism and arthritis that I could hardly get myself out of bed in the morning, and when I was up, my joints were so stiff it was hard to get started. Many mornings my ankles were so swelled up that I had to use crutches to get around at all. I was always tired and bothered with gas and indigestion. I tried everything I heard of, among them were several well known medicines, but until I tried O-JIB-WA, nothing helped me. Right from the start

O-JIB-WA BITTERS seemed different. It's no wonder I'm so sold on this great medicine, for in less than 20 days, I began to feel much better. Altogether, I have taken this medicine for a little over three months, during which time the pain and stiffness has gradually left me. I now work twice as hard without getting tired and no longer worry about gas and indigestion regardless of what I eat. I haven't an ache or pain in my body and I give full credit to O-JIB-WA BITTERS. It is my sincere belief that there's no better medicine made. Many people have taken O-JIB-WA on account of me, and it's helped them all."

In the past 35 years, O-JIB-WA BITTERS has been used successfully by over a million Michigan people. O-JIB-WA BITTERS acts as 5 medicines in 1. Its 5 major actions—does much towards correcting the cause of rheumatism and arthritis and removing it from your system. We sincerely believe that O-JIB-WA BITTERS will do more for you than anything you have ever tried. Professor "Tech," film character familiar to Plymouth servicemen, points out the newest and best service procedure. The latest educational aids, along with manuals, demonstrations, and practical "laboratory work" in the shop, are combined in a continuing "postgraduate" course. This unique, specialized training is one of the big reasons why forward-looking servicemen prefer to work for Plymouth dealers.

To many people, the kind of service that's behind a car is important.

Before buying, they wisely ask: "Where can I get service if I need it?"

Plymouth Dealers Are Everywhere

It makes no difference where you live, there's an expertly trained Plymouth serviceman near you. With over 10,500 Plymouth dealers —far more than for any other make of car—you'll find a Plymouth dealer in or near every community in the nation.

70,000 Master Technicians

Plymouth owners have available not only the most, but the best, service. Nearly 70,000 Plymouth servicemen are members of the Master Technicians Service Conference, the largest program of its kind in the world. In operation for more than 4 years, this is a continuing "postgraduate" course in the most accurate, surest ways of diagnosing mechanical difficulties . . . the newest, best service methods.

The Right Service at the Right Time

Plymouth Master Technicians are the kind of servicemen who can diagnose the complaint right off—without costly, time-wasting guesswork and experimenting. Then they work to factory-approved standards, with factory-engineered parts. Result: The job is done properly. The Plymouth car is built to last —to give you fine and dependable transportation at low cost. But when your Plymouth does need a checkup, minor adjustment, or repair, it's good to know that this fine service is always near you. It's part of the satisfaction, the sense of extra value, that you get when you buy a Plymouth.

Timely Talk On Christmas At Club Dinner Meeting

An impressive and timely talk on the subject, "Put Christ Back Into Christmas" was given by the Rev. Joseph S. Dickson, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church before a large gathering of members of the Escanaba Business and Professional Woman's club at their dinner meeting last night at the Sherman Hotel.

The rector opened his talk with an outline of the background of Christmas legends and stated that the world of fantasy has its part in Christmas tradition provided that it is not over-emphasized.

He described the increasing commercialism of the observance as unfortunate.

Christ brought God's greatest gift to mankind, he said, adding that the Nativity was only the beginning and that the entire life of Christ was to be followed in true Christian living.

He closed by urging that the spirit of giving and goodwill prevail at Christmas be carried throughout the entire year.

At the business meeting of the club plans were made for the annual Christmas party December 11 and Mrs. Walter Wickert was appointed chairman.

Mrs. Elizabeth Potoczniak was chairman of last evening's program.

A RECEPTION at the Knights of Columbus club house followed the Thanksgiving Day ceremony at which Miss Dorothy Mary Roberts and Dale Matthew Lippold spoke their marriage vows. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antoine E. Roberts. (Juetten Studio)

Woodland Setting Will Enhance The Venison Dinner

EAST LANSING—If the man of the home succeeds in his hunt there will be venison dinners throughout the year. You can bring a happy surprise to the hunter by decorating the table in keeping with the hunting season, says Miss Elinor Roth of the textiles and clothing department at Michigan State College.

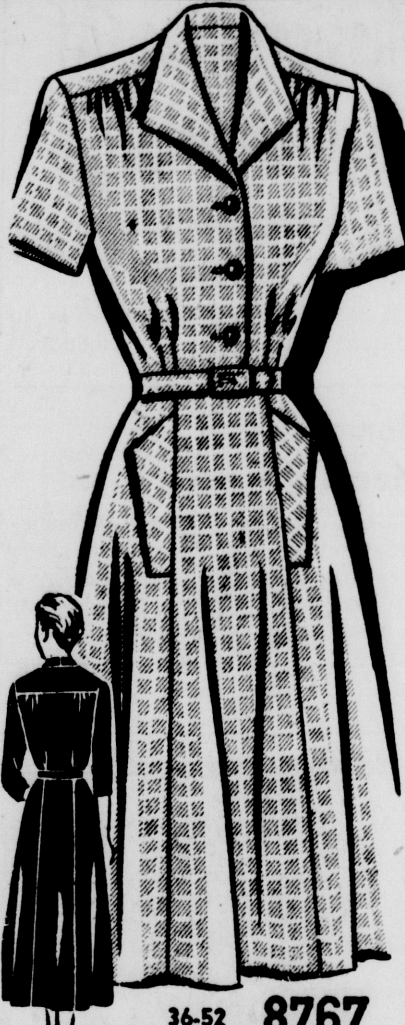

Colored leaves, berries and pine cones simply arranged on a brown or green cloth provide the basis for this surprise meal. Maybe a figurine or two could be used with the leaves and cones. Conservation and hunting stories will come easily when the stage is set. Having the family share his hunting pleasure is agreeable to any man—he will enjoy the atmosphere of the woods in his own dining room.

A colorful table depends quite as much upon food choices and the selection of the serving dishes as upon flowers, Miss Roth emphasizes. Yellow bowls, amber glass and orange and brown tablecloths give a feeling of warmth and friendliness whether the sun shines or not. But tablecloths of cool greens, while very harmonious, give a cool atmosphere and are better for the warmer season.

The same color principles which guide homemakers in choosing clothes and home furnishings will help you add interest and accent to meals during the coming hunting and holiday seasons.

For instance a milk glass bowl filled with shiny red Michigan apples will add a colorful highlight and green and yellow vegetables have a harmonious combination on the dinner or luncheon plate. Cost isn't a factor—it's just a question of a few minutes of thinking about the effects.

Scientists only recently proved that the warm Gulf Stream current wanders sometimes hundreds of miles as it shifts its course in response to unknown pressures.

Fall Missionary Conference Opens At Calvary Church

Miss Elaine Nordstrom, missionary appointee to Japan, will open the fall missionary conference at the Calvary Baptist church, 301 North 15th street, Thursday night at 8. Miss Nordstrom will show colored slides of picturesque Japan and bring a message on the challenge of that field.

Miss Nordstrom is a member of the Temple Baptist church in Duluth, Minn. After graduating from the Duluth branch of the University of Minnesota, she taught junior and senior high school English, speech, and journalism for three years—one in Tracy, Minnesota, and two in Cambridge, Minnesota. Then she put in two years of graduate study at Wheaton College in Wheaton, Ill., to earn a Master of Arts degree in Biblical Literature which she received June 11 of this year.

Upon completion of resident work at Wheaton, Miss Nordstrom was called by her home church as youth director. Ministry among youth in Bible camps has been a special interest during the summer. For two successive summers she attended Campus-in-the-Woods, the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship's training camp north of Toronto, Canada. She has been a counsellor and teacher at Inter-Varsity's Pioneer Camp on Lake-of-the-Woods in Manitoba, Canada, and for three summers at the Minnesota Conference's Big Trout Lake Bible Camp near Pine River, Minnesota.

Having a particular interest in reaching college youth in her ministry, Miss Nordstrom hopes to reach college and university students in Japan. She received her appointment by the Foreign Missions Board of the Baptist General Conference of America in Chicago, September 25. She hopes to sail for Japan this December.

ORPHEUS DIRECTOR—Mrs. M. H. Garrard, Jr., will direct the Orpheus Choral Club in its part in the Elks memorial service, impressive ceremonies honoring departed members of the lodge. The memorial will be held on the traditional date, which, this year, is December 2, at 3 at the Elks club in Escanaba. Briton W. Hall is in charge of arrangements for the service. (Ridings Photo)

TO make it a trip she'll fall for, present your traveler with cards designed especially for the wayfarer. The case in point—a card case in neoprene that I found at Gust Asps. It looks just like a fat coin purse, and snaps open like one to reveal two decks of plastic coated bridge cards. Be sure to see these card cases at Gust Asps when you're looking for Christmas gift ideas. They're bound to travel in the best circles!

City Takes Action Monday Night To Get Water Job Underway

Two resolutions were approved by the city council at its meeting Monday night to initiate action on reconstructing the municipal water supply system.

One resolution officially accepted and approved the preliminary plans for the project as presented by the Francis Engineering company and instructed the engineering firm to proceed immediately with the preparation of working drawings and specifications.

A second instructed City Attorney William Hood to prepare an ordinance providing for the issuance of revenue bonds to pay for the water project.

It also was reported at the meeting that George W. Francis owner of the Saginaw firm, would meet in the near future with the city attorney and local banking interests relative to the issuance of the bonds.

Preliminary estimates place the cost of the project at $217,000.

New Traffic Act Adopted

Measure Given Immediate Effect

Manistique's new traffic ordinance is now in effect.

Final adoption of the new regulation took place at the regular council meeting Monday night. The measure was given immediate effect.

The ordinance, first presented several months ago and subsequently revised after much study, was given first reading two weeks ago.

The new city statute repeals traffic ordinances of 1924, 1926 and 1927 and provides the community with one of the most comprehensive traffic regulatory measures in the Upper Peninsula, councilmen believe.

Council Decides Not To Purchase Used Ladder Truck

Manistique is not going to buy a used ladder truck from the city of Grosse Pointe Farms after all. The city council, at its meeting Monday night, rescinded its previous action in authorizing the purchase after learning that the truck broke down about 70 miles out of Grosse Pointe Farms as it was being driven to Manistique.

At its meeting Nov. 12 the council had approved the purchase of the truck and ladders at a price not to exceed $500, and authorized City Manager H. W. Heideman to negotiate for the equipment and have it brought to Manistique.

Last weekend the city manager and Ed Clement, a city employee, went to Grosse Pointe Farms to make the deal. The truck and ladders were purchased for about $400, and the two men started back to Manistique, Clement driving the truck. About 70 miles from Grosse Pointe Farms the truck's oil pressure went down and a bearing burned out. The two men left the machine in Flint and returned to Manistique.

When the council was advised that Grosse Pointe Farms was willing to take the truck back, it decided to forget about the whole thing, and make some other arrangements for replacing the present ladder truck.

The city manager was instructed to investigate the possibility of using a used city truck to replace the obsolete vehicle to which the ladder trailer is fastened, and to report at the next city board meeting.

The Vagabonds defeated the Escanaba Harnischfeger team in an exhibition game in Escanaba Monday night.

Steel Poles To Replace Present Light Standards

The gradual replacement of Manistique's light standards with steel poles was authorized at a regular meeting of the city council Monday night.

The purchase of 16 steel poles was approved at the meeting at an estimated cost of $95 a pole. Fourteen of them will be used to replace present standards which have been broken.

In This Corner

With Roy Crandall

Can anybody tell us why these traveling basketball teams feel they have to pull that old baloney every time they make a tour of the Upper Peninsula . . . As a sports writer, we're getting darned sick of it and we don't blame the fans if they feel the same . . . We're speaking, of course, of the fast one pulled by the Detroit Vagabonds who appeared here Monday night.

*****

We don't blame the Harnischfeger club which booked the team in good faith . . . The managers were bamboozled by the advance publicity releases—as we were—and booked the game on the basis of that publicity . . . The Vagabonds simply misrepresented themselves in order to get the game, and to arouse fan interest . . . It's about the lowest trick in the books.

*****

Here we are, writing stories based on their publicity releases, for weeks ahead of the game . . . All about the seven-foot, two-inch giant, the former college stars, the great Paul Travis, former Hillsdale athletic great, the halftime entertainer, etc., etc. . . And what do we see Monday night at game time . . . Six players—that's right, six—who probably average six-one or six-two in height . . . No giants, no stars, no entertainers, no classy ball handlers, no nothing . . . The Vagabonds cried about the officiating, they required a special six-foot ruling to make up for their lack of players, and they put on an inept exhibition considering their advance billing.

*****

The fans—and about 400 of them turned out for the game—came expecting to see a polished quint, late of the professional ranks, in action . . . And they saw instead six nervous, hard-pressed athletes who were lucky to beat the Escanaba club by an eight-point margin . . . If anyone at the game thought they were seeing a team of professional caliber, let us be the first to say they were mistaken . . . We've seen a dozen independent, high school and college teams that could trim the pants off the Vagabonds without working up a sweat . . . And with a few more games under their belts, the Harnischfeger boys could whittle that eight-point margin more than considerably.

*****

For our part, we thought it was a stinky deal . . . Many fans expressed disappointment after the game, although some were pleased with the closeness of the score . . . The Harnischfeger management, we understand, let the Vagabonds know they didn't care for the run-around . . . A good chunk of the game guarantee was even knocked off.

1951-52 Cage Kickoff Tonight At Trojan Gym

High school basketball takes over the sports spotlight in Escanaba tonight for the first time this season as the St. Joe Trojans entertain Bark River-Harris in an 8:30 clash.

Coach Paul Wiinikainen's Broncos will be seeking their first win of this season, having dropped outtings to Hermansville and Gladstone to date. It will be the first action for Coach Tom St. Germain's Trojans.

A preliminary between the Bee teams of the schools will open hostilities at 7 o'clock.

The Trojans will be working short-handed in the opener. Coach St. Germain announced yesterday that only eight players will be in uniform. Four will not be suited because of absence from practice sessions last week.

Starting will be Bob Sendenburgh and Bill Baker at forwards, Jim Gravelle at center, Pete Kutches and John Martinac at guards. Reserves available for action are Jerry McDonough, Dick Cass and Don Legault.

Bark River will open with Dave Kwarciany and Allan Schoen at forwards, Joe LaVigne at center, Ken Heim and Jack Good at guards. All five are lettermen. Reserves likely to see action are Charbonneau and Shepherd.

LaVigne, lanky Bronco pivotman, tossed in 18 points against Gladstone last week and will be the prime target for St. Joe's defense.

Game officials will be Ed La Casse and Jim Short of Stephenson.

Three Spartans Join Yanks In Blue-Gray Game

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (P)—Three mainstays in undefeated Michigan State's football team today joined the Yankee squad for the Dec. 20 Blue-Gray pigskin classic.

The new additions announced by Blue-Gray headquarters are Marvin McFadden, 210-pound tackle, and Guards Frank Kapral, 205, and Dean Garner, 190.

They were key men in the Spartans' march through a nine-game schedule, which included victories over Michigan, Ohio State, Notre Dame and Indiana.

Michigan State ranks second nationally among the football powers in the Associated Press poll.

Two players from undefeated Bucknell, Fullback Frank Albert and 250-pound Tackle George Young, signed up with the Blues yesterday.

Other Northern players already picked are Harry Warren, 195-pound Pennsylvania fullback, and Princeton's powerhouse tackle, Charles Hemminger.

The 24-man Rebel roster is complete.

Clear Path For Third Major Baseball League

NEW YORK — (P)—The path was cleared today for the birth of another major baseball league. At the same time, the door was closed to any individual city wishing to crash the big leagues.

A new method of application for major league status was recommended by the Major League Executive Council. The recommendation came as the council acted on a proposal made by the special committee named to study the Pacific Coast league's request for a chance in classification.

It specifies that applications can be made only by a group of eight clubs mutually agreeing to all requirements.

Need Majority Vote

This proposal must receive a majority vote among the big league owners at the major league convention next week for ratification.

"We sincerely believe that this method will serve in the best interests of all concerned," said Commissioner Ford Frick, spokesman for the five-man executive council.

"The executive council is convinced that the advancement of eight clubs in a group is the only feasible way," Frick added. "A ten club league is too impractical as it would leave two clubs idle most of the time, and a 12-club league is too unwieldy."

"For years certain territories have been clamoring for major league status. Now is their chance to follow up their words with action. You can't become a major league simply by saying you are. If these territories are sincere, and can meet the specifications, there will be nothing to stop their progress."

10 Qualifications

The council listed the qualifications as follows:

1. The eight clubs making such applications must be responsible for all territory provisions and for all financial obligations necessary in setting up their organization and making their application.
2. That means that these eight clubs alone must undertake to pay compensation to any and all minor leagues infringing upon.
3. The clubs shall present with their application full and complete data establishing their abilities to meet the requirements for advanced status including a full statement as to stock ownership, financial ability and character, both of the group and the individual members.
4. The proposed league shall show an aggregate of 15,000,000 population in the eight cities.
5. That would mean a jump of 12,000,000 from the 3,000,000 population requirement for the Triple A circuits, highest in the minors.
6. The PCL currently has a population of some 15 million to draw from. Both the International League and American Association have a population area of some six million. There is no specific population requirement in the majors today.
7. Each club shall have a potential minimum of 25,000 capacity in any single park.
8. Only four clubs would currently qualify. Baltimore Stadium seats 31,000, the Los Angeles park holds 25,000 as does Seals Stadium in San Francisco. The Grand Stadium of Havana in the Class B Florida International league tops them all with 32,000 capacity.
9. Washington's Griffith Stadium houses the smallest seating capacity in the majors with 29,731 seats.
10. The eight clubs shall have had an average paid attendance of 3,500,000 over a three year period directly preceding the application.

The PCL was the only circuit to approach that figure last season. Each of the majors drew approximately 8,000,000.

6. They shall provide a balanced schedule of at least 154 games.

7. They will adopt the major league minimum salary agreement with no maximum salary limitations.

The major league minimum is $5,000. The maximum is believed to be around $125,000 drawn by Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox.

8. They will become parties to the major league players contract and agreement, with all provisions therein.

This includes such items as $500 transportation to traded players, $25 weekly expenses during spring training per player, $10,000 waiver price system, draft systems, etc.

10. They will join the players pension plan or adopt a comparable plan, whichever may be acceptable at the time.

White Sox, Browns In Player Trades

CHICAGO—(P)—General Manager Frank Lane, the White Sox' sultan of swap, has helped to engineer a nine-player trade that promises to enhance the Comiskey's 1952 American League pennant chances.

In a straight player shuffle with no cash involved, the Sox sent to Manager Rogers Hornsby's rebuilding St. Louis Browns first baseman Gordon Goldsberry, outfielder Jim Rivera, Pitcher Dick Littlefield, Catcher Gus Niarhos and infielder Joe De Maestri.

The Browns dispatched to the Sox Catcher Sherman Lollar, Pitcher Al Widmar and Shortstop Tom Upton.

The Sox then sent Upton to the Washington Senators in exchange for utility infielder Sam Dente.

Everybody Happy

Everybody was happy in the three-cornered trade which some observers estimated involved $300,000 worth of players.

Lane was especially jubilant in landing the 27-year-old Lollar, who, with Rookie Rivera, 30, were the keymen in the trade traffic.

Lollar was with Cleveland and the New York Yankees before going to the Browns. He batted .252 last season.

The Sox bought Rivera from Seattle of the Pacific Coast league in a deal involving more than Detroit's Bob (Hunchy) Hoernschmeyer, rates third with 602 yards, and John Dettley of the Chicago Bears, fifth with 556.

Norman Van Brocklin of the Rams lost a little ground in his passing average, but maintained first place in the aerial department with a 9.2 average. ## Bratton Faces Cuban Hawk In Non-Title Bout

CHICAGO — (P) — Johnny Bratton, the perennial comebacker, and Welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan, the flashy Cuban, meet in a non-title ten rounder in Chicago Stadium tonight.

The bout, to be televised nationally (10 p. m. EST), is expected to attract fewer than 7,000 spectators with a gate of about $25,000.

Gavilan dethroned Bratton in Madison Square Garden last May after the 24-year-old Chicago Negro had worn the NBA welterweight crown 5 days. The champion will receive 30 per cent of the net gate plus $1,250 from television and radio proceeds and $1,500 for expenses.

Bratton is down for 25 per cent of the net plus $1,250 from TV-radio receipts.

Hard Work For Braves Who Entertain St. Joe Friday

GLADSTONE—Hard work was the order of the week as Coach Eldon Keil put his charges through their paces in preparing for their game against St. Joseph of Escanaba here Friday evening.

In addition to strenuous workouts, the local mentor was shifting players about trying to find a combination from his starting five which would function more effectively.

Keil was plainly disappointed with the showing of the Braves against the Bark River-Harris Broncos in the opener last Wednesday evening.

He said the defensive work of the Braves was just as discouraging as their offensive efforts last week and both were far from what he had expected from the showing made in practice.

However, he said he expected the team would show sufficient improvement so as to give the Falcons a good battle.

Just what combination he will evolve from his five starters is a question. Last week, Martin Becker was at center, Tom Moreau and Harold Goodyear at guards and Lowell LaPlant and Roger Beauchamp at forwards.

Others on the squad are Ed Bonno, Don Timler, Jerry Norrick, Tom LaLonde and Norbert Boutlier.

There will be a reserve game between the second team of the two schools starting at 7.

Officials are Meli and Northay of Negaunee.

Drake Steps Out Of Loop

DES MOINES—(P)—Drake University ended its 43-year-old Missouri Valley Conference membership last night, and Bradley University quickly indicated it may follow suit.

The Drake athletic council said it took its action because of the "refusal of the conference to investigate x x x the assault upon John Bright in the Drake-Oklahoma A. & M. football game at Stillwater, Oct. 20."

Bright suffered a broken jaw in the early minutes of the game, which Oklahoma A. & M. won, 27-14. Drake officials after viewing pictures of the game charged Bright was the victim of at least three "vicious and premeditated" attacks by Aggie Guard Wilbanks Smith.

Cancel Cage Games

Drake in its action last night also cut off athletic relations with Oklahoma A. & M., effective "at once." The council said it was asking Aggie officials to cancel contracts for two basketball games between the two schools this season.

President David Owen of Bradley said at Peoria, Ill., he would recommend to his faculty athletic committee that it follow Drake's lead in withdrawing from the conference. The committee meets today.

Drake protested to the conference shortly after the A. & M. game. But conference presidents and faculty representatives said after a meeting in St. Louis last Wednesday that the conference "holds no power to take disciplinary action against an individual player." The group added that it contemplated no further action in the Bright case.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (P)—An Ohioan is the captain-elect of Michigan's 1952 football team. He is Merritt Green, a six-foot, 180-pound junior from Toledo's De Vilbiss high school. Michigan's famed Bob Chappuis came from the same prep school a few years back.

Election of Green by the football squad yesterday was a tribute to the defense. Green was a defensive flanker whose speed made him particularly effective downfield on kickoff and punt plays.

Green was awarded the Meyer W. Morton trophy last spring for being voted the most improved player in spring practice. Green has been wearing contact lenses.

Award of 1951 letters to 36 members of the squad were announced by Coach Bennie Oosterbaan. Among the letter winners were Russ Osterman of Baraga and Ben Pederson, Marquette.

Typhoid Fever About Whipped

Cases Are Reduced To 43 In 1950

Michigan has practically whipped its old enemy, typhoid fever. New typhoid fever cases have been cut from 424 in 1931 to 42 in 1950, and deaths from 75 in 1931 to 5 in 1950. No new case of typhoid fever related to a public water supply has appeared in the state in the past 17 years.

Michigan was plagued with typhoid fever and other water borne fevers from its earliest history. When it was finally known in 1932 that carriers were the main source of new cases of typhoid fever in Michigan, State and local health departments started a painstaking and systematic search to find the carriers and undertook a campaign which included not only carrier control, but also safe public water supplies, proper sewage disposal, the complete pasteurization of milk and a close check of all food handlers in the State.

There are now 264 known carriers of typhoid fever in the state, all of whom are under close supervision of health departments to make sure that they do not transmit their infection to others. The 19-year campaign has revealed 574 carriers.

Because typhoid fever germs enter the body through the mouth, in food, milk or water, carriers of the disease are not allowed to handle food, water or dairy products intended for public consumption.

In the past, two to three per cent of those who contracted typhoid fever remained carriers of the disease. Now chloromycetin, one of the newer antibiotics may clear the disease up rapidly so that the patient does not become a carrier.

No typhoid fever patient is released from health department supervision until three laboratory tests, a week apart, show that there are no typhoid fever germs in his stools. These tests show up the carriers. The identity of a carrier is kept confidential as long as he cooperates in control measures.

Reds Exile Detroit Priest Back To U. S.

ROSWELL, N. M. —(P)—A Catholic priest, sentenced to "exile" in the United States last June by Red China, is recuperating here.

After his three-hour trial early last summer, Father Leon Sullivan, a tall Irishman from Detroit, said he expected a bullet in the back of his head.

Instead he was "condemned to exile in the good old U.S.A.," he exclaimed. "I couldn't believe my ears."

Father Sullivan said he was charged with five murders, 20 rapes, espionage and "counter-revolutionary activities."

He was trapped with hundreds of others when the Communists overran China in 1949. He was at a Franciscan Mission at Hwang Sih Kang, a town of about 35,000 persons in the Hankow area.

Rene Pepin, rookie wingman of the Providence Reds in the AHL, scored the first goal in each of the first two games his club played this year.

HUSBAND FOR GARBO? — Actress Greta Garbo, usually very shy of news cameras, is seen strolling in London with British society photographer Cecil Beaton. When the pair flew to Paris, London buzzed with romantic rumors. Garbo said she didn't wish to speak to anyone. Beaton didn't say anything.
